PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Senior WordPress and front-end developer with more than seven years of practical experience building and maintaining websites for e-commerce businesses, NGOs, and major organisations. I work with WordPress, Elementor, PHP, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and WooCommerce, and I am comfortable taking a website from a design or an idea through development, testing, and launch. A large part of my work involves fixing WordPress problems, changing themes, building plugins, creating custom sections, working with PHP and CSS, and keeping websites running properly after launch. I have built e-commerce websites from scratch using Figma prototypes, added booking features, and worked on website migrations. I have single-handedly delivered over $10,000 in revenue through Meta Ads, Google Ads, LinkedIn Ads, Google Business Profile, SEO, and email marketing.

META ADS PROJECT

Meta Ads Creative Testing & Lead Generation Campaign | Educational Supplies & Stationery | Campaign case study

- Planned and managed a structured Meta Ads test around seven creative variations, using audience and performance data to identify the strongest combinations before recommending further budget allocation.
- Set up and monitored campaign performance across Ads Manager, reviewing results, reach, cost per result and creative-level performance to guide decisions rather than relying on one advert.
- The campaign recorded 158 results, reached 27,211 people and delivered an average cost per result of ₦176.63, providing a clear performance baseline for the next stage of testing.
- Compared creative performance and placement results, identified stronger and weaker adverts, and used the findings to recommend which creatives should be retained, adjusted or dropped.
- Produced a practical scaling direction from the test results, connecting paid traffic performance with landing-page and sales considerations so the campaign could be expanded with evidence rather than guesswork.
